Author's Note: The information contained herein was extracted from applicable association literature. In some instances, minor inconsistencies were found along with some ambiguities. Our best effort was made to present a complete, accurate, and objective picture for comparing the various organizations' BV and financial credentials. We welcome your comments and are open to input for integration into future updates of this chart.

NACVA Footnotes

- Information herein can be found in The Association brochure (<http://www.nacva.com/association>) published by NACVA and updated annually.
- The CVA credential is the only valuation credential accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies® (NCCA®), the accreditation body of the Institute for Credentialing Excellence™ (ICE™).
- For CPAs this is implied because most states require a five-year college degree to become a CPA. Non-CPAs must have a degree in a field of business.
- Degree must be in field of business.
- Hold a credential from AICPA, ASA, CFA Institute, CICBV, IBA, or NACVA.
- Experience is required; see The Association brochure for more detail.
- Attend the four-day course, Accredited in Business Appraisal Review (ABAR) Workshop.
- Applicants may apply to submit a BV report prepared for a client in lieu of the Case Study if they have experience in business valuation.
- Designees are required to obtain at least 36 hours of CPE each period if they also participate in NACVA recommended courses, but up to 60 hours if they choose not to.

AICPA Footnotes

- This is implied due to the CPA requirement to become an ABV because most states require a five-year college degree to become a CPA.
- The 1,000 hours experience must be in forensic accounting in the five-year period preceding application.
- The required training must have been received in the five-year period preceding application.
- Holders of the ASA and AM credential awarded by the American Society of Appraisers are exempt from taking the exam.
- Designees may receive up to 24 hours credit for authorship and up to 36 hours for presenting/instructing on topics of BV.
- Both, AICPA required membership dues of $435 plus $360 annual credential fee, for a total of $795, are required for ABVs and CFFs.

IBA Footnotes

- Equivalent is 4+ years working full time in appraisals with an appraisal firm.

ASA Footnotes

- Refers to BV discipline only; the ASA has supported practitioners in real estate, personal property, and/or other appraisal services since 1952.
- Must have passed ethics and USPAP exams before sitting for BV exam.
- Applicants take 101 hours of classroom training (4 courses), with a 3-hour test given at the end of each course (12 hours total). Applicants can opt to take the exam in one sitting, which is an 8-hour exam.
- Applicants who hold one or more of the following credentials may certify without taking the proctored exam: ABV, CBV, CFA, CBA, MCBA, or CBI.
- Must also provide evidence of 60-hours work in professional development, i.e., speaking, writing, authoring, course work, etc. on BV topics, or hold an appointed or elected position in the ASA.
- The ASA has designated 15 accredited members as Fellows who are recognized as having made significant contributions to the profession. They carry the FASA designation.
- Accredited Senior Appraiser dues are $490 a year with an additional $60 a year for subscription to the BV Journal and, if applicable, local chapter dues.

ACFE Footnotes

- Two years applicable work experience is required.
- Though it is not clearly stated in the association's materials, it is implied that training is not required.
- The exam is administered online in an un-proctored setting, but with time limits based on 75 seconds per question for each of the four sections of the exam.
- Related areas being fraud detection/prevention/investigation, with 10 hours in those areas, 8 hours in other areas not specified, and 2 hours in ethics.
- Designees only need to check a box on their annual dues notice confirming compliance to recertification. No other reporting is required.

CFA Footnotes

- Four years in investment or related experience is required.
- Examination has three levels, each exam is 3 hours in length.
- Continuing education is recommended in the amount of 20 hours per year, with 2 hours in ethics, but it is not required to maintain designation.
- Offered on the first Saturday in June at hundreds of locations. Level 1 exam is also offered in December.
